

Dewey Makes Most Direct Attack on Lehman's Actions

Says Governor Last Year Gave Campaign Backing to 'Discredited Forces of Corruption and Reaction'

'Sudden Concern'

Declares That Lehman Displays 'Concern' Contrasting to Previous Regard

By WILLIAM S. WHITE

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—In his most direct attack on his Democratic opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, Republican gubernatorial candidate, asserted last night that only last year Governor Lehman had campaigned for a city ticket here that included "the discredited forces of corruption and reaction."

"My opponent," Dewey said in the Old Manhattan Opera House, "suggests sudden and great concern for the conduct of my office. Now where was my opponent last year when I was seeking to root out Tammany Hall and the administration it dominated?"

"Did he then have concern for the people of this county? Did he lift his voice for the people of this county in the election last year? The answer is written on the record. And the answer," he here shouts of "no" from the audience muted his own negative. Dewey planned a day off from speech-making today, with four night meetings arranged about the city.

The variety of points Dewey touched last night included an assertion that Democratic critics of his decision to seek the governorship after less than a year as district attorney were motivated by a desire "to keep me in one county."

"You know," he shouted, "that they want to protect the Brooklyn machine, the Bronx machine and all the others. They want to keep the lid on in Albany county."

He asserted the Democrats were in "panic," and added that they had "sent up the governor" (Postmaster General James A. Farley) to aid the campaign.

"I rub my eyes with wonder," he said. "As I read the papers I ask myself whether we are really conducting an election for governor in the state of New York, or am I a Democratic candidate in one of those purges?"

In what he described as a "review of my own social philosophy," Dewey declared his belief that economic security was "a right of the people."

"It includes the right to a job at fair wages," he went on. "It includes the right of a farmer to decent prices for his crops. It includes the right of labor to bargain collectively through representatives of its own choosing. It includes the right of the small businessman to protection against unfair competition. It includes the right of the very young and the old, the sick and the infirm, to shelter from the winds of chance."

"These rights are still denied to our people. For many of these we still must fight."

The rights of the individual, he said, should be put "ahead of the duties of government," adding: "Sometimes government forgets how it came into being. . . . When any small group of men selfishly use their power to monopolize government, then the integrity of government is at stake."

The address, delivered before a crowd that filled the opera house, was his second of the evening. At the first, in the Bronx, hisses arose at Dewey's mention of the name of Edward J. Flynn, the Bronx Democratic leader.

He asserted the Lehman administration had given "promises" in some important matters rather than performance, and added:

"Speak, sloppy and lazy government, supported by corrupt political machines, never has the courage to go forward to do its job."

Dewey Caravan Starts From City

Tuesday noon the local Republican Dewey Caravan started from the court house on the first leg of a tour that will reach every corner of the county. Standing left to right in front of the band wagon are Sheriff Abram F. Molyneux, County Clerk James Simpson and Philip Eiting, Republican leader of Ulster county.

Lehman Confident Of F. D. R.'s Aid

Governor Certain Roosevelt Will Support Him Tonight in Broadcast

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Governor Lehman, confident of President Roosevelt's support in a radio speech tonight, pushed his bid for re-election toward a close today with one of his heaviest campaign sessions.

Accusing his Republican opponent, Thomas E. Dewey, of "sheer hypocrisy" in his "attempt to smear a party because of the wrong doings of some men" the governor awaited expectantly, first, the scheduled Roosevelt endorsement, and second, the support of Mayor LaGuardia, which thus far, has not been actually voiced.

Lehman, who speaks in Manhattan and three Brooklyn halls tonight, told a Bronx rally last night that Dewey had failed to tell the people of corruption which, the governor said, existed in "high Republican office."

"He has deliberately failed," the governor declared, "to tell that during my administration as governor, the state auditors uncovered shocking records of corruption by Republican office holders."

Republicans, who Lehman said, were indicted and convicted of thefts included a Lockport city treasurer, a Clinton county clerk, a Columbia county treasurer, a Fulton county clerk, and a Hudson county treasurer.

"I merely tell you this," the governor said, "so that the people may know the hypocrisy of the campaign my opponent is conducting."

The governor also asserted that "a Republican sheriff in Cayuga county" had appointed the late Arthur (Dutch) Schultz, Flegenheimer, a deputy sheriff while the gangster was "a fugitive from justice and under indictment."

"No one realizes more than I the necessity of vigorous law enforcement," he said. "No one—and I literally mean no one—has taken a more active and vigorous part than I in the war on organized crime."

Six Investigations Start Into Vancouver Sinking

Oakland, Calif., Nov. 4 (AP)—Evidence of possible sabotage arose today as six separate investigations were pushed into the sinking of the German liner Vancouver yesterday after a terrific explosion below the waterline.

Efforts were to be made today to raise the 477-foot vessel from a mudbank in Oakland estuary where she settled stern-down after the blast.

Four members of the crew of 54 were injured by the blast. Eight passengers on the ship were not harmed.

An exhaustive investigation last night by District Attorney Earl Warren, federal bureau of investigation agents, and other officials brought a closely-guarded statement from Warren that "we are of the opinion the explosion was not in the engine room or in the ship itself."

Because of international implications, Warren declined to say the explosion was the work of saboteurs until the vessel could

Dr. Sanford Warns Of Scarlet Fever Danger in City

Three Cases in Michael School and One in School No. 6 Are Reported; Tells of Disease Symptoms

With three cases of scarlet fever reported in the past few days in the new Myron J. Michael School, and one case in School No. 6, Dr. L. E. Sanford, health officer, today warned that another outbreak was certain unless parents cooperated in keeping children home when it was found they had broken out with the fever rash.

The third case of scarlet fever among the students in the new Michael School was discovered Thursday by one of the school nurses during her usual examination of the pupils in school. The case is that of a girl. The other two cases among the pupils are those of two boys.

The fourth case of scarlet fever is that of a boy in School No. 6. The symptoms of scarlet fever, said Dr. Sanford, are a sore throat; a fever, which may be slight; a white coated tongue with scarlet edges, and a fine pink rash or rash appearing first on the upper part of the chest and later extending downward over the body. Vomiting will sometimes occur.

Dr. Sanford said that parents can assist in preventing a spread of the disease by examining their children and not sending them to school if they have any of the above symptoms.

The family physician should be called in, said Dr. Sanford, or else the health authorities should be notified at once so that an early diagnosis can be made and the child excluded from school.

If the child attends school when broken out with the scarlet fever rash, he said, the chances are he had communicated the disease to all those with whom he has come into close contact.

Dr. Sanford said that unless these precautions were taken that it was certain that there would be another outbreak of scarlet fever in Kingston.

There was an outbreak of the disease in the city last winter and spring, but since then scattering cases had been reported in the city.

New York to Press Charges of Murder Against Four Men

'Kidnap Syndicate' to Stand Trial, Dewey's Office Says; Part of Human Jaw Found Under Floor

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—The district attorney's office today announced murder charges would be pressed against four alleged members of a "kidnap syndicate" accused of slaying Arthur Fried, White Plains business man, and kidnaping two Brooklyn residents who were released after ransom payments.

At the same time, officials announced that part of a human jawbone with several teeth still intact had been found by police digging in the basement of Ukrainian Hall, an East Side social establishment where one of the kidnapers said Fried's body was cremated in a furnace.

A quantity of bones unearthed yesterday were found to be those of animals.

Today's discovery started the police on an investigation of the possibility that an additional victim may have fallen prey to the gang. Medical examiners said the jawbone was that of a person who had died recently.

Fried was kidnaped last December 4 and killed according to the announced confessions, four days later.

Assistant District Attorney Joseph Rosenblum, after all night questioning, announced the four prisoners had confessed, and evidence against them would be presented immediately to the grand jury.

The confessions, he said, were obtained from Demetrius Guir, 30, William Jackson, 27, and John Virga, 34, arrested Tuesday by federal agents, and Joseph Stephen Saccoda, 28, who recently was sent to Sing Sing prison for violation of parole.

Rosenblum said the men told of kidnaping Fried in the Westchester city and taking him to Ukrainian Hall in lower Sixth avenue, Manhattan, after negotiations had failed. Saccoda was accused by the three others of shooting Fried to death, as he sat bound and gagged in a chair in the basement headquarters of the gang.

Rosenblum said Saccoda, brought here from Sing Sing for questioning, accused another member of the gang of the actual slaying. All four the official said, admitted helping cremate Fried's body in the basement furnace.

Rosenblum said the prisoners also confessed to the abductions of Benjamin Farber, 33, Brooklyn businessman, whose relatives paid $1,900 ransom for his release, and Norman Miller, 19 year old son of a Brooklyn stevedore contractor.

Saccoda said he would seek indictments for the three kidnapings in addition to a true bill for murder in the Fried case.

Saccoda, brought from Sing Sing after midnight in a surprise move to Westchester and Kings (Brooklyn) counties also sought jurisdiction, broke down, Rosenblum said, after Miller and Farber identified him as a member of the gang.

Senate Campaign Committee Says Probe Results Good

Washington, Nov. 4 (AP)—Two members of the Senate campaign expenditures committee expressed the opinion today that its investigations have reduced the possibility of political corruption in next Tuesday's election.

Chairman Sheppard (D., Tex.) declared the committee's work had been "a healthful and restraining influence on excessive political contributions and misuse of public funds and official influence."

Senator White of Maine, the only Republican committee member, said:

"I don't think anyone can say that we have purified the election, but it certainly is not as bad as it might have been if the committee had not been active."

The committee held a final pre-election meeting yesterday, but Sheppard announced that members would reassemble in event of an "emergency."

Before adjourning, the committee sustained charges that in some instances WPA funds had been used to further Democratic political interests in Pennsylvania.

$428,000 Robbery Wallkill People Believed Solved as 8 Are Indicted Of Mail Frauds

Man Serving Time for Pine Bush Bank Theft Said To Have Given Police Needed Proof

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Ending a four-year search, police marked "solved" today the $428,000 Rubel ice plant armored car hold-up in Brooklyn in 1924, with the indictment of seven men and a woman.

Six were charged with participation in the robbery; the woman with harboring the gang in her Manhattan rooming house; the seventh man, a doctor, with treating one of the bandits for a shotgun wound.

Arraigned on charges of robbery, grand larceny and assault, were Stewart Wallace, Joe Kross and Thomas Quinn.

Dr. Harry Gilbert and Mrs. Madeline Tully, the rooming house operator, were arraigned as accessories after the crime.

Also indicted were John Oley and Percy Gray, now in Alcatraz, and John Hughes, a fugitive.

Although police knew three days after the crime who its participants were, Commissioner of Police Valentine disclosed yesterday, four years passed before corroboration was obtained from Archie Stewart, a prisoner in Dannemora prison, serving time for a Pine Bush, N. Y., robbery.

A police report named the robbers as John and Francis Oley, Gary, Kross, Archie Stewart, Wallace, Quinn, John Manning, Bennie McMahon and Hughes.

Francis Oley is dead—a suicide. He killed himself in jail as he awaited trial for the kidnaping of John O'Connell in Albany, N. Y.

Serious International Incident Arises Over War in China; Civil Armies Fight Vital Battle in Spain

Japan's Threat

Tokyo Threatens to Denounce 1922 Treaty; Duce Echoes King George

(By The Associated Press)
King George's prayerful hope for a "new era" of peace in Europe rang down the curtain on a session of Britain's parliament today as a serious international issue arose over the war in China and civil war armies fought a vital battle in Spain.

Japan's threat to denounce the 1922 nine-power treaty plodding respect for the principles of Chinese territorial integrity and the open door clouded the horizon for western nations in the Orient.

The United States, which demanded in a sharp protest October 5 that Japan not slam China's open door, is a signatory of the treaty.

President Roosevelt told a press conference at Hyde Park today that it had been decided to re-open the New Orleans navy yard and the war-time Armour Plante plant in West Virginia.

He said the decision resulted from a series of surveys, adding that the latter plant would not be used for armor-plate manufacture but for an unnamed government purpose.

The President said that in rounding out national defense expansion, efforts would be made to utilize all unused land and plants owned by the government instead of buying other property for the work, thus affected a large savings for the government.

The President revealed a survey was being made of all unused government land and plants which might be of operation in prosecuting the new defense program.

A Tokyo foreign office spokesman said Japan considered the pact obsolete and was studying a substitute pact among herself, her protectorate, Manchukuo, and a prospective Japanese-dominated Korea in China.

Spanish insurgents reported their six-day offensive against the government's Elvira Salient in lower Catalonia had carried them within rifle shot of the river and was picking up speed.

The government acknowledged the insurgents were gaining but declared its troops were resisting so desperately the gains were at a great cost.

King George's message, read for him at a joint session, said President Roosevelt's "timely action" during the Czechoslovak crisis last September "powerfully aided the cause of peace."

A new parliamentary session will open next Tuesday.

In Rome Premier Mussolini echoed King George, declaring that "in the European political sky the blue area tends to expand."

But Il Duce warned his country, "there is still need of steeping with our heads on our packs." He made veiled references, apparently to opponents of European appeasement on the basis of the Munich accord, against men who "are dreaming of speculative and impossible revenge."

Hungary, latest beneficiary of the sacking up of Czechoslovakia "after Munich," set up four committees to follow the army of occupation which will enter almost 5,000 miles of newly-acquired territory tomorrow.

The committees will deal with border adjustment, citizenship and the right of option, rights of minorities and the coordination of traffic and economies between old and new Hungary.

May Flowering Tulips Give Vivid Spring Display

Darwin Breeder and Cottage Tulips Blossoming Together.

May flowering tulips are the finest native species they came. But they were grown by the Dutch breeders of the 16th century for the purpose of producing, by the process known as "breaking," the gayly striped varieties now called by bloomers and bizzars.

These striped varieties were highly valued and, speculating in them, caused the financial crisis known as the tulipomania.

The breeder tulips were never so highly valued for their own merits as they now are, when modern taste considers their rich but somewhat dull colors, in which tones of brown are usually present, most desirable in the garden.

Darwin tulips were an introduction late in the last century, supposed to be hybrids of breeder tulips, but the origin was kept secret by the introducers. They are characterized by soft pastel colors, always with white overblow, including a remarkably complete color range, but lacking entirely so far, good yellows.

Cottage tulips are brighter in color, not so tall, and not so large as the Darwins and breeders. They are usually later and they have brilliant yellows. The flowers as a rule have pointed petals, which often are inclined to reflex or turn back.

Being one of the oldest of garden flowers with a recorded history, the tulips have an interesting background. The oldest of the garden types are the breeders. No one knows from what and when the soil is at this point, the plant will make the maximum growth, other conditions being favorable.

It is possible through the use of lime to make an acid soil alkaline at a nominal cost. It is quite often necessary to apply lime, particularly on soils that have been under cultivation for many years (this does not apply where acid-loving plants are to be grown, of course.)

It is possible through the use of use of chemicals to make an alkaline soil acid. Aluminum sulphate is the material most often recommended for acidifying soils, and sulphur is also used, but both should be used with caution, so that an excessive amount is not applied. This is rather expensive and difficult for large areas, however, and if the subsoil is naturally alkaline, it is difficult to maintain an acid reaction.

So the wisest thing to do is to choose plants that are adapted to your conditions. Your nurseryman will be glad to tell you whether a plant prefers acid or alkaline soil, or whether it is tolerant of a wide range of acidity or alkalinity.

You can easily test your soil through the use of one of the small soil test kits now on the market, or your state experiment station will be glad to do this for you.

Once you have brought the soil to the proper reaction, use a complete balanced plant food that will not change that reaction. Such a product will not make the soil alkaline, neither will it increase the acidity. Its effect in this connection is neutral.

The coming months offer the opportunity for a study of this subject which you will find interesting and valuable.

At a recent meeting plans were discussed for a hay ride to Woodland Valley on November 12. Members of the group will not be charged, but a small fee will be collected from all non-members.

The Solomon Grundy party held last week was reported as a great success, according to Robert L. Peters, secretary of the group. He said that everyone who attended enjoyed a fine time and the result of this party is the planned hay ride for November 12.

Couple Disappears From Union Center

Disappearance of the Rev. Leonard C. Richmond, 58 year old evangelist and former Newark, N. Y., nursery-house salesman from Rifton, and Miss Martha Every, 28-year-old choir member at the Rev. Mr. Richmond's Sunday evangelist meetings held in Union Center chapel, has created a stir in the village. The two people disappeared from home last Saturday and State Trooper Arthur Rellly has been making an investigation since Sunday when the matter was reported to him by a member of the Every family.

Trooper Rellly said that Richmond was accompanied by his 17-year-old son, Wallace. Before leaving Miss Every, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Every of Union Center and an employee at the Hercules Powder Plant at Port Ewen, drew from her bank account a very substantial sum of money.

Notes were left by the young woman, according to Trooper Rellly, stating that she and Richmond and his son were leaving by car for the west and it was intimated that Richmond would go to Reno. Miss Every took a quantity of furniture with her.

The trip was started in the Durant car of Richmond and an old trailer which he had acquired. While the notes indicated that the couple would go west to Reno it is known that the start was made in a southerly direction but trace of the caravan was lost a few miles after the trio left Ulster county.

According to residents of Union Center which is located near Ulster Park, the Rev. Mr. Richmond came to Union Center about a year ago and began his evangelist campaign, using the chapel which was unused since the minister which supplied the parish from Ulster Park Reformed Church left some time ago.

Richmond's wife, two married sons and a married daughter live in Arlington, a suburb of Poughkeepsie. Mrs. Richmond has made no charge against her husband.

Eruption of Krakatoa
In the summer of 1883 an eruption occurred on the small volcanic island of Krakatoa in the Sunda strait whose effects were far-reaching. The finer particles of the volcanic dust, attaining the higher layers of the atmosphere, were diffused over a large part of the surface of the earth. Within the tropics they were borne along by air currents at a rate of 73 miles an hour from east to west until within a period of six weeks they were diffused over nearly the whole space between the latitudes 30 north and 45 south. Eventually they spread northward and southward and were carried over North and South America, Europe, Asia, South Africa and Australia. It was reported at the time that ashes fell on the decks of vessels at sea many miles distant from the source of the eruption.

Meaning of Name Hector
The name Hector is of Greek origin and means, literally, "an anchor," but by interpretation, "steadfast," or "one who holds fast," states Florence A. Cowles in the Cleveland Plain Dealer. Hector figures in Homer's Iliad as the ideal hero, greatest of the Trojan warriors. Hector Berlioz (d. 1869) was a French composer of great genius and eccentricity, more appreciated in other countries than in France. "Symphonie Fantastique" is one of his works. Hector MacNeill (d. 1818) achieved fame as a poet. "Mary of Castle Cary" is his. Hector Leroux (d. 1900) French painter of classical subjects, is perhaps best known for his "Lazarus," painted in 1857. Much of his work is in this country.

HUSKING CHAMP IN ACTION

A new champion, Ted Balko of Redwood Falls, Minn., emerged from the national corn husking contest held near Sioux Falls, S. D., recently. He took the title with a total of 22.24 bushels husked in 30 minutes. Balko, seen in action during the championship, won the 1934 national at Fairmont, Minn.

Rainfall in City Less Than 1937

So far this year there has been a rainfall of 43.01 inches in Kingston, according to the records of the city engineer's office. While this is a heavy downpour of rain it will not exceed the record of 1937, when 47.33 inches of rain was recorded in the city.

The heaviest rainfall so far this year was during September when 10.17 inches of rain fell here. The lowest rainfall was in February when 1.71 inches fell. In June the rainfall was 6.37 inches, and in July the rainfall was 6.92 inches. In August the rainfall dropped to 4.28 inches.

The measuring gauge was first installed in 1933 on the roof of the city hall when records for the 10 months it was installed showed a rainfall of 31.82 inches.

Records for other years were:

1934	44.86 inches
1935	31.28
1936	38.53
1937	47.33

Littersweet in Dune Country
Bittersweet grows in various localities, one of its favored habitats being the dune country along the shore of lower Lake Michigan. In some places among the white sand hills the shrub is quite abundant. Sometimes it climbs a small tree, its own foliage all but obliterating from sight the leaves, twigs and branches of the tree. In this respect bittersweet is not unlike the wild grape. Other times it is supported by lower forms such as young sand cherry shrubs.

Woman Leads as Trapper Of Predatory Animals

EAGLE PASS, TEXAS.—The record of trapping more mountain lions than any other person employed in the eradication of predatory wild animals by the Texas Predatory Animal Control association during the last fiscal year is held by Mrs. Beale Kennedy of Eagle Pass. She has for her territory Maverick county, bordering the Rio Grande.

During the last 12 months Mrs. Kennedy has captured eight mountain lions, 154 coyotes, 40 bobcats, and many smaller predatory animals, according to C. R. Landon, district director of the association. She sets and looks after the traps herself.

Her husband also is one of the most successful trappers employed by the association. His work, however, is less difficult than that of his wife, because he is assigned to patrol a woven wire enclosure containing about 6,000 sheep. He captured during the year five mountain lions, 94 coyotes, and 28 bobcats.

Digging for Evidence in 'Crime Factory'

Police of the New York emergency squad are shown digging in the basement of Ukrainian Hall, on the lower east side, seeking evidence of possible murders committed by a "kidnap syndicate." Four members of which were tracked down by FBI operatives. Several bones believed to be those of Arthur Fried, White Plains gravel executive who disappeared nearly a year ago, were found, as well as a machine gun, a secret room and counterfeit federal revenue stamps. FBI agents investigated a possible link between the kidnap suspects and the unsolved abduction and slaying of 12-year-old Peter Levine.

Donarumma Says Attack 'Sarcastic'

The following communication was received from Alderman Donarumma:

Alderman Donarumma replies to Mayor Heiselman:

I note in a statement to a reporter of The Kingston Daily Freeman, published in the issue of November 3, that a vituperative and sarcastic attack was made on me as alderman of the Sixth ward by the mayor of this city.

This attack on me was made as the result of a sincere attempt to secure enlightenment on the city budget before its actual presentation to the Common Council. The request was extremely sensible, since discussion of the budget is impossible when one is first advised of its provisions at the time of its actual presentation.

Frankly, it does not seem to me that my request should cause the honorable mayor of this city to degenerate into the realm of personalities, vituperation and name calling.

Not only was the sincerity of my motives questioned, but also a base and senseless attempt was made to connect Alderman Nathan and myself with the American League for Peace and Democracy.

The stupid and silly inference that it was necessary for me to secure a spokesman in the person of Dr. Bibby, sounds like the effect of a Chinese pipe dream. In the first place, I do not know Dr. Bibby, have not sought his aid and assistance, but respect the right of freedom of speech, guaranteed to all American citizens by our constitution. Further, I feel it is a healthy condition that Dr. Bibby or any other citizen of this city, has sufficient interest in municipal affairs, to publicly explain himself on questions of governmental importance.

Since the mayor has sought to publicize himself in this matter, I would like to make known that the statement of the mayor made that aldermen seeking information on the budget have never been refused, is flagrantly false. This year printed copies of the budget were not available until one month after its adoption. I personally, visited the office of the mayor on several occasions during January of this year, and was informed by the "Mikado" that no copies were available. The explanation cannot be printed because of its vulgarity, but it included a damnation of the Freeman because it would not print copies of the budget for nothing, even though the mayor of this city commanded that it be done.

The mayor charged me as being a contributor of hot air. I take a bow to him, for in this field, he is the undisputed, albeit modest, champion. One of the finest examples of hot air, is the paragraph from his message on January 1, when he announced his bold intention of bringing suit against the City of New York, to compel that city to build a sewage disposal plant for the city of Kingston. I brought this matter before the Common Council, but the mayor and corporation counsel skillfully sidetracked the possibility of carrying to fruition their grandiose scheme.

Space prevents me from giving further illustration of the mayor's skill as a hot air artist. I urge all citizens to attend the next meeting of the Common Council when this matter will be further elaborated upon.

I really appreciate the Freeman allowing me the opportunity to answer an uncalled for and discourteous attack on my motives and personality.

ALDERMAN DONARUMMA.

THE ARMY POST MURDERS

By Virginia Hanson

The girl across the aisle was staring at me again. She looked strangely familiar, but I couldn't place her.

Chapter One

The Stranger's Face

THE BOOK was dull. I dropped it, consulted my wrist watch to find that another hour must be killed somehow and turned to the train window. Cornfields were wheeling monotonously past, miles upon miles of them, green-gold under the violent sun, their endless aisles leading from nowhere to nowhere across a fertile desert. An occasional black dirt road flashed by, innocent of travelers, a gash in the green landscape that the fields rushed backward to cover.

My hypnotized eyes were beginning to close when something drew them away from the window, back to the nearly empty car. The girl across the aisle was watching me again. She glanced quickly away, but not before I had seen that she was staring at my ring—the diamond-set miniature of his classing that Charlie had given me the summer before.

I studied her intently for a moment, trying again to solve the tantalizing familiarity that had bothered me when I first noticed her, just out of Chicago. She was older than I, near thirty, I thought; but it was difficult to judge, for she looked ill, or in trouble. She was thin and pale, her hair and skin the same lifeless beige, her light blue eyes shadowed by dark circles. Her clothes were of good material, but poorly assembled, as if they were a matter of indifference to their wearer.

No, I decided, I didn't know her. I had been misled by a chance resemblance.

She grew tense under my scrutiny. I turned back to the window, feeling vaguely sorry for her, wondering about that elusive resemblance; wondering, too, what she knew about a West Point miniature, or whether she had merely been thinking it an outlandish sort of an engagement ring.

The cornfields were still circling past like huge, fantastic merry-go-rounds. I closed my eyes against the glare and yielded to the soporific rhythm of the clackety-clack, clackety-clack that was going on under my feet.

Some time later the porter shook me awake. We were pulling into a shabby town. As I stepped onto the platform I saw the girl again. She was ahead of me, just disappearing into the small station. I stared after her, my suspicion strengthened that I had seen her before.

Charlie's Silence

THEN I forgot the small puzzle of identity that was to loom so large in a few hours, for Elizabeth Wright was advancing sedately across the station platform—alone. And suddenly it rushed over me that Charlie's silence over this proposed visit of mine might have been caused by something more serious than his careless letter-writing habits. I had written him of Elizabeth's invitation and he had not answered the letter—not by any means an unusual oversight on his part, but one capable of two interpretations, as I saw now for the first time. It was Elizabeth's privilege to ask me to visit her; it was my privilege to accept. If for any reason Charlie were to find my presence on the post embarrassing, there was nothing he could do about it—and nothing was exactly what he had done. Nor had he found it convenient to meet my train.

There are moments of intelligence that defy all rational explanations of the workings of the human mind. I stepped off the train that summer afternoon, saw the strange girl vanish into the waiting room, saw Elizabeth coming to meet me alone; and complete though formless advance nucleus of a little group of buildings that included the Officers' Club, the chapel, the Post Exchange and the Service Club.

Sanctuary

AN occasional khaki-clad figure crossed my field of vision, but otherwise the post seemed deserted. Elizabeth negotiated an abrupt turn, halted the car in its tracks, and the hush of the summer afternoon closed about us.

Colonel Wright's quarters stood in majestic isolation at the near end of the plain, facing the reviewing stand where the band played lugubriously on Sunday afternoons. The outlook was lovely, but the house itself was uncompromisingly ugly. Built of red brick, like most of the buildings on the post, it was square and tall, with a broad veranda across the front and sides. Inside, the rooms were too large, the ceiling too high, the windows big and ugly; and within the bare white walls were crowded the motley furnishings peculiar to army houses. There were plain, heavy mahogany pieces, tables of carved ebony, black-and-white pinecock chairs from the tropics side by side with deep and well-worn easy chairs. There were brass trays and countless little brass boxes, ugly long knives and a row of ivory elephants parading across the golden oak mantel of the living room. The Chinese rugs were magnificent and overlapped each other on every available inch of floor space.

But in spite of its startling juxtapositions, its casual violation of the laws of good decoration, that interior had its own distinctive charm—a charm that partook of the perfume of spices and myrrh, of the flavor of an unfamiliar world. Within those walls there was sanctuary from the humdrum.

Elizabeth led the way upstairs to a room I had occupied before. It was immaculate and cool, and trees murmured outside the open windows. The smell of green grass was good after the city stinkiness I had left behind.

"We'll have some cold lunch when you're ready," she said, pausing in the doorway. "I told Annie to wait, because I don't like to eat alone, and Father left for Omaha early this morning."

Somewhere a clock struck two as her measured steps retreated down the stairs. I made haste with a sketchy toilet. There had been no dinner on the train, as Elizabeth doubtless knew. It was like her to know.

In the big dusky dining room I lunched hungrily, cheered on by middle-aged Annie, a fiery little daughter of Erin whose friendly chatter was interrupted only by the swinging door into the kitchen through which she vanished and reappeared with speed and gusto.

"Sure and it does my heart good to see a young miss that's got the good sense to eat her food and relish it and not be all the time banting and thinning and nibbling like a rabbit at two leaves of lettuce."

"That will be all, Annie," said Elizabeth. "As soon as you clear away you may go. You remember we'll be out for dinner."

"Sure, and why else would I be hungry you are by morning, what with the cookin' on that Bridget and dancin' all the night and whatever. But I'll be in by eleven, as usual, and I'll be leavin' you some sandwiches; I make no doubt you'll be havin' in some of them fancy young men that throw their cigarette butts in my clean sink. Well—have a good time." And she flounced out.

Elizabeth distinctly blushed. I wondered whom Annie meant by "fancy young men." Did Elizabeth have a heart interest on the post?

BUICK 1939 PRICES ARE LOWER
—lower than last year,
lower than you'd expect,
lower even than some sixes

Coming at you, it looks like a million. Going away, it looks like good fortune you've missed.

A lot of fussy care went into the way it looks from the rear — you know, that's the angle from which it's oftenest seen.

Going or coming, it moves like a honey bee about its business. Better look quick if you want to see it — one sudden "swo-o-o-sh!" and it's gone!

How about it — is this stunning 1939 Buick really as lively as it looks? Well, just try it and see — you'll find it the car and the value of the year!

Maybe a bullet gets off faster. Maybe a rabbit can beat it on the jump or a skyliner lead it from point to point.

But you'll never want a highway cruiser that answers quicker to the green light "go" — that slips more deftly through the holes in traffic — that with keener relish eats up the miles.

That bonnet houses a full complement of eight cylinders, and Dynaflex cylinders at that. All four wheels dance on Buick Coil springing of stout spiraled steel; no quiver or shiver shakes the luxurious body in its flight.

You'll see the world — lots of it — for this slightly Buick now parades the passing panorama through windows with up to 413 more square inches of outlook than before. Other things you'll like: A gearshift out of kneeway. Front wheels that "bank" the curves for you. Brakes that stop on a dime — and leave nine cents change.

Go see this lovely lively traveler. Drive it — feel its magic yourself, first-hand.

You'll find it beautiful in action as in aspect — you'll go for the way it goes for you.

You'll find it obedient and willing, a car that holds its marks in cross-winds, bears sharp around curves without slide or slew.

In fine — we think you'll like all of it — from its looks to the way it lives up to them. Won't you try it out — and see?

Discover 3 New Plants

State Fe, N. M. (AP)—Three plants previously unreported to science have been found in the proposed Big Bend National Park of Texas. Ernest G. Marsh, Jr., of Austin, Tex., graduate of the University of Texas, is credited with discovering the plants. Two of them were named for Marsh by Paul Stanley, botanist and curator at Field Museum in Chicago. The plants are described as a wild mallow similar to hollyhock; a wild nightshade and a plant that resembles a snapdragon.

Strong Men!
God give us men!
A time like this demands
Strong minds, great hearts, true faith
And ready hands:
Men whom the lust of office does not kill;
Men whom the spoils of office cannot buy;
Men who possess opinions and a will;
Men who have honor; men who will not lie.

You can get almost anything
on the radio now:
Husband (feeling a twinge in his back while he is tuning the radio) I believe I'm getting jumbago.
Wife—What's the use, dear?
You won't be able to understand a word they say.

Correct this sentence: "No political boss," said the Judge.
"can tell me what to do after I'm elected."

Salesmanship is a great art:
Mrs. Brown (to grocery clerk)
—Can you pick me a melon that will be just right for breakfast in the morning?
Quick Clerk—I surely can.
What time?

It is said that poor men live longer than rich men and live more happily.

Edith—Don't you ever get Johnnie and Bill confused?
Ruth—Yes, mother, I get Johnnie confused one night and Bill the next.

Mrs. A.—I like to have a man about, don't you?
Mrs. B.—Provided I know what he is about.

Speaking of pioneer hardships, many people yet living can remember when they toasted their bread on a fork over the fire, and even had to cut the slices themselves.

The customer rushed into a bird store and accosted the proprietor.
Customer—Say, you said the turkey I bought from you would live 300 years, and it died the very next day after I bought it.
Dealer (yawning)—Now isn't that too bad. The only way I can account for that is that the 300 years must have been up.

Read it or not:
The White House in Washington was burned by an Irishman.
Major-General Robert Ross of Rosstrevor, Ireland.

Bobbie—My father plays a longstringing instrument.
Billy—What is he?
Bobbie—He's the bell ringer
at the church.

The man who knocks his own home city is a pest. He should either become a home town booster or be boosted out.

Sometimes it seems just too bad that a fellow chosen to hold down a job for a year has the authority to fire an associate who is making the adjoining desk his life's work.

Woman—I suppose you carry a moment of some sort in your locker?
Friend—Yes, it's a lock of my husband's hair.

Woman—But, your husband is alive.
Friend—Sure, but his hair is gone.

It takes a genius to create a grand situation. But it's not the fellow with gumption who makes it pay off.

Golfer—Listen, kid, I'll swat
you with a club if you don't stop wise-cracking about my game.
Caddy—Yeah, but you wouldn't know which club to use!

Boys who give promise of being good business men generally turn out to be nothing more promising than efficiency experts.

Voting Machines Are Now in Every District

As required by law all election districts in the State of New York will be equipped with voting machines for the coming election. In 36 districts throughout Ulster county, voting machines will be used for the first time next Tuesday. There are 91 election districts throughout the county, 55 districts having had the machines at previous elections.

Pictured above is a voting machine for which the following directions to voters have been issued: Swing the handle of the curtain lever (overhead) from the left hand side of the machine over to the right as far as it will go, and leave it there. Then pull the lever down towards the emblem and the name of the candidates you want to vote for. Leave all levers down. Only the levers down will be counted. If you push them back you have not voted. The voting machine will push them back as you swing the curtain handle to go out. No one knows how you have voted when you leave the machine. A lever must be left down for each candidate for whom you vote. If you pull down the wrong lever, push it back in place, pull down the correct lever and leave it down.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—Things that continue to baffle and confuse me: The ban on strip-tease . . . The law says you can't stand before the footlights and peel off one garment at a time . . . That's immoral . . . But you can come out shrouded in a cape, toss the cape off with one gesture, and stand there perfectly nude . . . There isn't anything immoral in doing that, according to the interpretation of the law . . . If there were—and if it were enforced—there wouldn't be many nightclubs on Broadway doing business.

It all boils down to this: Nudity is okay. If you want to wear no clothes at all, well and good. If you want to out-do your Victorian grandmother and wear 49 starched petticoats, that's okay too. But you've got to undress in the privacy of your dressing room. To strip on the stage is a sure method of earning a one-way ticket to the hoosegow.

In the old Republic theater, where the ghosts of immemorial strip-dancers flutter like the shadows of slowly discarded garments, a staff of film technicians set up shop at midnight and prepared to film some interior shots for a new motion picture.

BUT that wasn't important. The thing that occurred to me was, here closed another chapter in the bizarre careers of the fabulous Minskys . . . The Republic was a burlesque landmark on 42nd street, just off Broadway . . . For years the bald-headed row had shouted coarse and obscene remarks to the blondes and brunettes who paraded before the footlights, taking off their clothes one little garment at a time.

Here, to the derisive shouts of the onlookers, the little dimpled darlings invaded the orchestra and kissed the customers on their bald heads.

But last year the axe fell . . . Burlesque—or certain phases of it—was ruled to be indecent . . . And so the strip-tease was tossed out . . . When you take the tease from burlesque, you cut its throat . . . So now the Republic is just a theater, standing idle . . .

They are using it this week for the interior shots of a movie . . . Next week it may be a shooting gallery—or an orange drink stand.

ONE of the acts in a Swedish nightclub on Broadway is a Japanese chorus girl trying to do a Hawaiian hula . . . She isn't very successful at it . . . I'd never have recognized it as a hula if she hadn't worn a grass skirt and a lei and a flower in her hair . . . Two years ago this would have been hailed as great stuff . . . But since that time New York has had a liberal education in the genuine hula article . . . The Ray Kinneys and the Lani McIntyres with their own hula maids—the Pualanis, the Mapuanas, the Meymos, etc.—have seen to that.

The rate changes, which the commission permitted to become effective November 1.

Sundown Stories

The Witch Explains

"I REALLY didn't want to frighten you, little Yellow Beak," cawed Christopher Columbus Crow. "But you know I felt so close to tears thinking that it was Willy Nilly's birthday and how we all loved him that I just felt I had to do something to make us all laugh."

"Even this bad old crow heart can beat with devotion, you know," and Christopher gave Willy Nilly an affectionate pat. "It was just too much when even the bears gave up eating nuts so they could bring you all things gathered. I knew that was the way we all felt, too."

"Yes, I would have burst out sobbing through sheer happiness if you know what I mean." They all nodded. "And when Willy Nilly said we should celebrate Halloween I got the old lat and shawl from the Big Box That Holds Things Just For Fun."

"Then I walked into the kitchen and picked out the smaller of the two brooms—you know the rest. 'It was some time before anyone noticed me. I couldn't caw to attract your attention, for that would have given the whole thing away. Yellow Beak certainly notices things.'"

"You have ideas in your crowish head," said Top Nolech, putting a wing before his face to hide a roosterish yawn. It was past his bedtime.

"We'll have more games tomorrow," said Willy Nilly, as he saw the rooster's yawn followed by one by Mrs. Quacko. "It is bedtime for us, but all of you gave me a beautiful birthday time and we've had Christopher's joke, too."

Woodstock Artist to Exhibit

New York, Nov. 4 (Special).—An exhibition of drawings and etchings, the work of Rouan William Wolceske of Woodstock, will be held at Grand Central Art Galleries here from November 8 to 26. The artist, who has devoted the past 10 years of his life to etching, is interested chiefly in landscapes, particularly winter scenes. Most of the works to be shown in his exhibition are reproduced from scenes in and near Woodstock, where he has lived and worked since 1924. Except for his early study of painting at the St. Louis Art League and one summer of study with John Carlson, Mr. Wolceske is entirely self-taught.

Journey to Mars Would Take 1,000 Years In Fastest Rocket Science Has Produced

THE PLANET MARS
The lines are "canals." The deep shadows may be vegetation. The white cap on one pole may be snow. This is a drawing of what some astronomers see through the telescope; others say the "canals" aren't visible.

EXPERIMENTAL ROCKET
This earthly rocket attains speeds of 700 miles per hour. It is designed for "weather soundings" of the atmosphere in the experiments of an American group. The boys here were setting it up for a trial flight.

A radio dramatization of a book about war between Earth and Mars sent a wave of hysteria across the country. In the play, Martians arrived in space ships, spread death and destruction by strange, frightful weapons. Science Editor Blakeslee here discusses the possibility of life on Mars and of communication between the two planets.

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Editor
New York—In 60 years since the so-called "canals" were discovered on Mars, science has not been able to rule out absolutely the possibility of living beings on the red planet.

Two kinds of beings are still possible there.

One is the "life as we know it," sort, meaning oxygen breathers like men. Astronomers have definitely established that Mars has only about one-thousandth the oxygen in its air that is present on earth. No human could live there without an oxygen helmet.

Mars Shy On Oxygen

But, as pointed out by Dr. Henry Norris Russell of Princeton University, one of the world's great astronomers, persons on Mars, of no greater intelligence than man, could have learned to extract oxygen to use for breathing purposes. A long time ago Mars is presumed to have had more abundant oxygen.

The other sort of person on Mars would be "anaerobic," that is, not needing oxygen. Among bacteria and a few other low forms of life on earth, there are "anaerobes." They live without oxygen. So if evolution is plausible, life might develop on Mars with little need for oxygen.

Mars' temperature, around the equator, in summer is about 50 degrees Fahrenheit. This has been accurately measured by astronomers. Clouds have been seen in telescopes. They seem to stand about 15 miles above the surface. They may be huge dust storms.

A few "canals" are two thousand miles or more long, almost straight lines. They stretch across the planet's face at odd angles. Short feeders, like telephone cross-roads, enter them at some places.

Looks Like Vegetation

Some areas on Mars turn distinctly gray-green in summer. Vegetation is the best guess as to the cause of this color change. If this is vegetation, it probably would be of a low, desert variety.

Photographs do not show the "canals" at all. These have to be seen with the eye. Some of the best astronomers claim to see them; others have denied the lines are visible.

The earth's separation from communication with Mars is becoming less certain now. Theoretically a space ship could make the flight.

Would Take 1,000 Years

Rocket ship propulsion would do it for a man who has one thousand years or more to live and fuels which do not now exist. The engineering principles have been established by rocket motor scientists. These have shown that a rocket will shoot through "empty" space, in fact, travel much easier there than in atmosphere.

Rocket engineers have produced speeds of 700 miles an hour with small rocket motors and might predict that speeds of 1,000 miles an hour are attainable.

At that rate, unless the rocket ship traveled many times faster in space, it would take about 1,400 years to fly to Mars when the planet is closest.

The distance from earth range from 34,000,000 miles to 45,000,000 miles. For Martians if they exist, to be the pioneers in a trip between planets, much more advanced knowledge than exists on earth would be necessary. Scientists know that stores of high energy exist in the binding forces of atoms that could drive a rocket ship millions of miles.

But there is yet no idea of how this energy can be obtained, and some doubt that it can ever be done. If Martians have found out how to get atomic energy, it is likely they also have the materials and the engineering skill to make a flight to earth.

But no Martians have arrived, so that this speculation, that all the others, ends in the void—no evidence of higher forms of life on Mars.

Hot Tips On Firing Furnace

By The AP Feature Service
Urbana, Ill.—There's a right way to fire a furnace even if your teeth do chatter and knees knock in the chilling cellar cold of a winter's dawn.

1—Leave a six-inch layer of ash on the grate. Pile coal on only one side of the furnace so that it presents a slanting surface. Place kindling and paper on top. Light paper, admitting necessary air through the ash door.

3—Place fresh coal on the side opposite red coals. Fresh coal and live coals will form a valley, lower where they meet. Leave the slide in the fire door open at all times. Repeat operation each time you refuel.

Hollywood

Sights And Sounds

By Robin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—The message was urgent, vital, compelling. Only two more days to see a sight never to be forgotten. Two short days. Hurry, hurry! Carole Lombard was in the throes of drama.

The harum-scarum comedy blonde, the girl who can take it, rah-rah Lombard! This girl was flinging her challenge in the general direction of serious stuff! Look out, Bernhard! Step lively, Dusel Duck, Garbol!

On two wheels we skidded out to Culver City.

Off in a back section of the lot, where the publicity department is housed in a bungalow next to M's Lombard's bungalow, there was no hint either of Great Moments. Over the publicity department a sign proclaimed: "This Is Not Miss Lombard's Bungalow." Over Miss Lombard's bungalow, a sign proclaimed: "This Is Not the Publicity Department."

UNDECEIVED, however, by such levity—even Bernhard had her lighter moments,—we reverently approached the second stage where "Made for Each Other" was in progress.

Ah, there she was! Sitting in a canvas chair off behind the camera, waiting for John Cromwell to start directing.

CAROLE said "Hi" and wanted a cigarette. She didn't look wan. She didn't look pale. She didn't look tragic. And she didn't know a thing. All she knew was she was so damned tired she couldn't see. She'd been at it all day. At what? We'd see in a minute.

"Miss Lombard, please," they called. Ah, here it was, at last! Miss Lombard knelt on the floor before the camera. The lights went on and the assistant called, "Quiet, everybody, they're rolling!"

The baby was produced. Cute little tyke, aged one year, three weeks. Dressed in a cute little suit with a too-big blue hat. Miss Lombard cuddled him, the camera turned, the air was tense. The baby, it developed, was supposed to give Miss Lombard the "bird." "Er-r-r," Jackie! gurgled Carole pleadingly. But Jackie didn't wanna.

"Here, Jackie, clap-clap!" cried Jackie's real mamma. Jackie still didn't wanna.

Everybody took a turn: Cootchy coo, Jackie! Oogie-ogle, Jackie! But Jackie plainly didn't wanna. Jackie still didn't wanna, no matter what. He looked around with a what-the-hell expression. He finally got so bored he cried. Loud.

So we all crept reverently out. We had seen Miss Lombard challenge Bernhard. We had seen Miss Lombard so to town on Drampy.

Mother's Association Has Annual Fall Tea

Amid a charming atmosphere the Mother's Association of the Academy of St. Ursula held its annual fall tea Thursday in honor of the new mother's of the association. The presence of flowers, candle light and silver is always a pleasing creation but when added to it is the music of a harp, the elegance of the situation is paramount.

Miss Helen Sheldon, talented harpist of this city whose simplicity and charm have won her many places on fine programs, gave a half hour program that delighted all. Her program follows:

Menuet.....Rameau
Prelude.....Chopin
Nocturne.....Schubert
The Fountain.....Hasselmans
Music Box.....Pozzani
Danse Orientale.....Cady

As an encore Miss Sheldon played the lovely "Annie Laurie." It is an interesting fact that the harpist is in possession of the manuscript of an arrangement of this tune written for Maude Morgan, dean of American harpists by the court harpist for Queen Victoria. This manuscript never has been published.

The tea table was most lovely. On a long cream colored cloth was a very large centerpiece of mixed chrysanthemums in glowing fall colors, flanked by a pair of three branch candelabra. Fall flowers also graced other tables in the room. Presiding over the tea table was Mrs. C. G. Tierney and Mrs. Donovan.

Co-chairmen of the tea were Mrs. Thomas P. Crowley and Mrs. J. Edward Conway, who were assisted in the arrangements by Mrs. Howard A. Lewis and Mrs. David Flaherty.

Polish Minstrel Cast

The fifth annual minstrel show for the benefit of Immaculate Conception Church was staged by this cast in a country store setting at White Eagle Hall, Delaware avenue, where crowds enjoyed it Wednesday and Thursday nights. MODES of the MOMENT

by Adelaide Kerr

One hundred New York debutantes in velvet gowns took part in the colorful cotillion, which was a highlight of the Velvet Ball—first big party of the Manhattan winter social season. One of them, Miss Brenda Frazee, is shown in a gown of rosewood velvet, designed with a shirred close-fitting bodice and full sweeping skirt.

Use Toys to Teach Tots Safety Rules

Miniature Cities Set Up in Ohio Playgrounds.

MANFIELD, OHIO.—Nearly 500 pre-school age children were taught traffic rules during the summer by driving toy automobiles in the streets of miniature cities laid out on playgrounds.

Traffic Patrolman Fred C. Beals of the Mansfield police department and a playground instructor, Betty Braden, supervised the unusual traffic education program.

"The children now have a thorough understanding as to the meaning of the 'stop,' 'caution' and 'go' signals of traffic lights because miniature streets' traffic was regulated by small lights," Beals said.

"Although the children could not read—they were from 4 to 5 years old—they know now the meaning of traffic signals and of white lined pedestrian lines."

He said that he and Mrs. Ruth Robins, a kindergarten expert, devised the system to train the child at an early age in the principles of road safety so that these principles would eventually become automatic with him.

"The program works along the same lines as the beginner in school learns to write," Beals said.

"After he is taught the fundamentals of writing, he practices it until it becomes a thing that is guided by his subconscious mind."

Miniature cities were set up on six Mansfield playgrounds and one on a Shelby (Ohio) playground to carry out the traffic education program. One group of children were the pedestrians and another group drove the toy automobiles.

Beals said that the children who received this traffic training and who entered school this fall know how to cross streets safely on their way to and from school.

Statistics gathered some years ago in New York state showed the death rate for single men to be markedly higher at all ages than that for married men.

In September, 1932, Illinois produced 2,621,016 gallons of whiskey; Kentucky, 837,009 gallons; Indiana, 812,149; Maryland, 466,208; and Pennsylvania, 199,579.

Predictions on Grid Winners In Games Slated Saturday

By Herbert W. Barker

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—Taking a running leap of a 100-foot springboard, this football guesser hits the bottom of the tank and comes up with the following probably irrelevant remarks about this week's program:

Southern California-California: Since their opening game which lacked by Alabama, Southern California's Trojans have acted like the old rock-crushers Howard Jones used to turn out at Los Angeles. Yet there is no use discounting California's habit of winning the tough ones. This game will all but settle the Pacific coast conference championship and the ballot, after extensive cogitation, goes to California.

Syracuse-Colgate: Nobody has scored on Colgate yet via a pass and that's Syracuse's main block in trade. This corner takes Colgate.

Northwestern-Wisconsin: Northwestern's upset of Wisconsin makes it impossible to count Wisconsin a chance to do more than make it close.

Alabama-Tulane: Tulane's Warren Brunner is one of the great backs of the season but this selection of Tulane to win is based on nothing more than the tone of a coin.

Tulsa-Texas Christian: Tulsa over-matched by Davey O'Brien and his fellow-Irishmen Frogs.

Pitt-Carnegie: A psychologist probably would say that if Pitt is to be beaten, this is the spot for it. Nobody suggests, however, that Goldberg, Stebbins, Cassano, et al., will be stopped by psychology.

Navy-Notre Dame: The Tartan tared.

Michigan-Penn: See little hope for Penn here, Michigan.

Boston College-Indiana: Close enough but Indiana has scored only eight points all season. Boston College.

Columbia-Virginia: Columbia scheduled this as a "breather" but, with Luckman out, it probably will be close. Columbia.

Fordham-Mary: Fordham, in the expectation that the Rams will have recovered from the beating they took at Pittsburgh.

Harvard-Chicago: Harvard d. handily.

Holy Cross-Temple: These crusaders are tough; Holy Cross.

Manhattan-North Carolina: Two erratic clubs get together but State seems to have been falling off weekly. Manhattan.

Rutgers-Princeton: Football's oldest rivals renew their rivalry and it probably will be close. Princeton.

Villanova-Auburn: What's happened to Auburn's punch? Villanova.

Yale-Brown: Out of the well-known fudora, Brown.

Minnesota-Iowa: Minnesota.

Ohio State-Purdue: Purdue's scoreless draw with Iowa makes State the natural choice.

Missouri-Michigan State: Paul Christman vs. Johnny Pluge! State's great showing against Santa Clara earns the Spartans the nod.

Georgia Tech-Kentucky: Georgia Tech, safely.

Louisiana State-Mississippi State: Ticking L. S. U.'s fingers.

Vanderbilt-Sevens: Give you one guess. Vanderbilt.

Arkansas-Rice: Why knows?

Arkansas. Texas A. and M.-Southern Methodist: The Aggies. Stanford-Washington: An extremely slight nod to Stanford. Washington State-U. C. L. A.: State has lost five successive conference games. U. C. L. A. seldom wins in the north. That gets you nowhere. U. C. L. A. Skipper over the chalklines: Dartmouth over Michigan. New York University over Lehigh; Penn State over Lafayette; Army over Franklin & Marshall.

PUNTS AND PASSES

By The Associated Press
New Brunswick, N. J.—The birth of intercollegiate football will be celebrated again Saturday as Rutgers and Princeton, original opponents in and proponents of the pastime, renew their rivalry.

For Rutgers it will be the occasion for dedicating a new stadium and the student cheering section has rehearsed a colorful stunt program with card formations.

Detroit—The Irish are a-comin' back into the football frolic at the University of Detroit too. This year's freshman squad includes O'Connor, McLaughlin, Brennan, Burke, Callahan, Cooley and Gleason.

Tulsa, Okla.—Two expert marksmen have a date for a personal passing duel of wide intercollegiate football in Tulsa's clash with the University of Tulsa's golden hurricane.

On one side will be "Dynamite Davey" O'Brien, leader of the Horned Frogs, and on the other Tommy Thompson, recently singled out by Sammy Haugh (anybody wants to see his credentials as a judge) as the season's best intercollegiate passer.

Los Angeles, Nov. 4 (AP)—Southern California, unconsciously shunted into the also-ran class five weeks ago after losing to Alabama, makes a dramatic bid for comeback honors and possible Rose Bowl glory tomorrow when its Trojans clash with California in one of the nation's biggest football games of the day.

Chicago, Nov. 4 (AP)—Almost 20 years of football—as player, coach and team owner—has convinced George Halas of the Chicago Bears that a sound running game is the cardinal requisite of a great eleven.

"They can throw that ball all they want to—and they're really tossing it around," the owner-coach of the Bears said today, "but the Green Bay Packers and Detroit Lions have proved that successful football still is built on a rushing game."

Ithaca, N. Y., Nov. 4 (AP)—Although five members of Coach Carl Snavely's Cornell team are still riding the hospital couch, his prospects of beating Dartmouth November 12 brightened today when Kasimir Hippolit, heretofore a disappointment in the backfield, proved to be a shining star at left end.

LOUIS TO FIGHT LEWIS

Promoter Mike Jacobs said a championship bout was practically assured between Heavyweight King Joe Louis and John Henry Lewis, the light-heavyweight champ, to be held January 27, 1934, in New York's Madison Square Garden. The two negro titleholders are shown in New York where they were brought recently to talk over terms of their projected battle. That's Heavyweight Joe whispering a thing or two into John's ear.

Tommy Maines Goes Big—
Jewels Look Stronk

By Joe Kelly

In that Colgate-Syracuse frolic game last Saturday, "Tommy Maines, former Kingston High School star, helped defeat Colgate. ... Maines put on a spectacular 49-yard run to score one of the Syracuse touchdowns. ... Final score was 24-14. ... Tonight Maines plays his last game with the freshmen, Syracuse against Cornell. ... He's bound for sub-versary work. ... Tommy is No. 54 and plays left half. ... Tom Donnelly of Stone Ridge is booking games for the Grangers and the Junior Grangers. ... He's anxious to hear from managers. ... The latest from Tommy Zano is that he's boxing at the Ridge-wood Grove in Brooklyn, Thursday, November 10, and at the Broadway Arena, New York, Wednesday the 15th.

Joe Louis is anxious to get back at Tommy Farr. ... Joe Gould is just as anxious for the match. ... He thinks Farr can beat the champ. ... If Farr battles Joe, he'll train around this sector, Gould said. ... Tickets for the American Basketball League season are selling rapidly. ... Reserved seats are being offered for 10 games in a row at an attractive price. ... Herzog, Haver, Faye and Forman are the men to contact. ... Orders are being taken at 796-J also. ... Ellisworth Vines and Fred Perry take their pro tennis show to Central America on the Santa Helena next week. ... They'll be gone a month or more.

When the New York Jewels come to the auditorium for that preview showing against the Colonials next Wednesday night they'll bring Kinsbrunner, Slott, Pelkington, Rubenstein, Shuck-

Louis Wants a Crack at Farr

New York, Nov. 4 (AP)—First thing Joe Louis said when they told him his next opponent would be John Henry Lewis was: "But I don't see how I can fight him. We're too good friends. I always watch his fights and he watches mine."

But Joe thought it over for a minute and told his manager, John Roxborough: "It's all right, I'll fight him. It's just a fight, and that's my business. Man I'd most like to fight, though, is that Tommy Farr."

The big negro champion has matured in a lot of ways lately, but he still swells up slightly when he thinks about Farr having stayed with him for 15 rounds last summer. John Henry, who originally hailed from Phoenix, Ariz., is some years older than Joe and will be 15 pounds lighter when they enter the ring January 27.

Louis and his manager went back to Chicago last night. Joe being anxious to show his three blooded saddle horses at a society show next week. Roxborough is trying to induce Joe to take some anti-cold injections, but the champion is bucking about it.

"I never saw a guy so afraid of a little pain," Roxborough says, scornfully. "I wore myself out for a month trying to get him to the dentist."

Stone Ridge Five Is After Games

The Stone Ridge Grangers have organized for the coming season and are anxious to book games with teams in Ulster county, all games to be played at Stone Ridge Grange Hall. The Grangers will have a strong lineup and a very good year is expected. The Ridge-ers had one of the strongest teams in this section in 1932-33. The Granger Juniors would also like to book games to be played as preliminaries to the Ridge-ers games. All teams wishing to book games may do so by writing to Tom Donnelly, manager, Stone Ridge, N. Y.

New York—Vince Pimpinella, 149½, New York, outpointed Felix Garcia, 143½, Puerto Rico, (8).

Perfetti-Speary Match at The Auditorium Tonight; Stellar Supporting Card

Local Runners In Delhi Meet

Coach Loyne Connick's cross country team of Kingston High School will travel to Delhi Saturday morning to compete in an interscholastic meet.

With Coach Connick will be Jess Shultis, Joe Beltrach, Pat Bowers, Joe Toney and Babe Markle.

This is fight night at the municipal auditorium and the big attraction at the Broadway punch bowl is that five round match between the two national champions, Dom Perfetti and Bill Speary. Starting time is 9 o'clock.

Perfetti, who comes from Amsterdam, holds the bantamweight title of the national Diamond Belt tournament, and Speary, the Nanticoke, Pa., slugger, is three-times winner of the Golden Gloves crown.

In two meetings to date, the 118 pound flashes broke even, Perfetti taking the second duel on a technical knockout. "He'd never have beaten me only for that cut eye," said Speary referring to the Rochester match stopped by the referee.

Perfetti is out to prove tonight that he can take the measure of Speary and hopes to do it for the Kingston fans.

Supporting the main attraction is an attractive array of scraps, as follows:

Carmine Fatta, Newburgh lightweight ace, vs. Dave Myers, Philadelphia.

Sergeant Perry, Kingston, vs. Joe Bittel, light-heavyweight, from Nanticoke, Pa.

Sammy Trivello, Poughkeepsie, vs. Glen Edwards, Nanticoke, Penn State bantamweight champion.

Monk Armstrong, Kingston, vs. Johnny Bowes, from the Fatta stable in Newburgh.

Joe Bliss, Ellenville heavy-weight knockout puncher, vs. Johnny Furlin, Middletown, 220-pound giant.

Bruno Furlin, Middletown lightweight, vs. Johnny Mirable, Albany.

Kingston High Gridders In Middletown Saturday

Kingston High School's football squad will enter its second DUSO tussle tomorrow afternoon at Wilson Stadium in Middletown on the top end as favorites despite their setback by Port Jervis.

At the Athletic Field yesterday afternoon Coach Kins put his charges through one of the longest drills of the week in preparation for this battle with the Finchems who have been hit hard by graduation. This afternoon the Maroon gridders were due for a signal drill.

The passing attack which has bogged down a little since the Liberty fray has been under close observation during the last two weeks of practice. At the start of the season Kingston displayed one of the finest aerial attacks in the history of the school with Vince Stoll, Bill Cole, Jay DeWitt and Bill Von Essen starring in that department.

The tentative starting lineups:

St. Anselms Play Southern School

Manchester, N. H., Nov. 4.—The undefeated high-flying Hawks of St. Anselm, with a string of four impressive victories, are showing no undue concern as they prepare for the Green Terrors of Western Maryland Saturday night.

The indomitable Roy McLean of the St. Anselm aggregation will truly be in the spotlight this week-end and the southern invaders may need the assistance of the powerful field lights to catch a glimpse of Rambling Ray when he shakes loose on his sensational breakaways.

Once again the Hawks came through Saturday afternoon's tilt with University of New Hampshire without serious injury. Eddie Boule, who has captured the regular left half spot, was carried from the fray, but will be in shape for Saturday's game.

Life of Ease Begins at 67

Frank Messing, who resides at 123 Greenkill avenue, was retired from service October 29, after completing 31 years of service with the New York Central Railroad.

Mr. Messing, born in Whiteport in 1871, started to work when he was but nine years old in the Newark and Rondout Cement Company making barrels. In 1902 he moved to Kingston and held several positions before accepting the job of bridge carpenter with the railroad in 1904.

When asked what he expected to do with himself in his retirement Mr. Messing replied, "It's terribly lonesome. Why this first week has seemed like a month. I have always worked hard and taken care of myself, and at 67 I haven't an ache or a pain in my body. I have a work bench in the garage and from now on I'm going to make a hobby of carpenter work and make pieces of furniture and knick-knacks that I never had time for before."

Attorney Predicts Lehman Bargain

Former Assistant District Attorney N. LeVan Haver, speaking at the closing rally of the Republican City Club Thursday evening in Cook's Hall on Railroad avenue, predicted that President Roosevelt would appoint Governor Lehman's brother to the Supreme court bench in recompense to the governor consenting to the election of the entire Republican delegation to the state.

Mr. Haver said that Governor Lehman had wanted to run as senator, but a political bargain had been struck and as a result of that bargain the governor was again the Democratic standard bearer in the state. Future events would bear out his prediction, Mr. Haver said.

Touching on the candidate for lieutenant governor on the Democratic ticket, Mr. Haver said that while a member of the district attorney's staff he had had personal dealings with Charles Pollett when the latter was the local counsel to Governor Lehman. Mr. Haver said that a New York man was owed $100 by another man who had given him a check in payment of the debt. The check, however, was returned as there were not sufficient funds to meet it.

The New York man lodged a complaint with the district attorney's office here and wanted the man who issued the check arrested on a larceny charge. He was told that there were no grounds for issuing the warrant as the penal code outlined clearly what constituted larceny. The New York man while he had received a had check was still owed the money by the man who had given the check.

However, the matter was presented to the grand jury which refused to indict.

Later the district attorney received a communication from Mr. Pollett regarding the matter and asking that an explanation be made. Mr. Haver said he was delegated the job of going to Albany and conferring with Pollett. He did so and explained the situation.

Mr. Pollett, however, believed that the grand jury should have returned an indictment. "Any lawyer in the state," said Mr. Haver, "would have known at once without consulting the penal code that there was no larceny charge involved, but the legal adviser of the governor, however, was not aware of the provisions, judging from the position he took in the matter."

Mr. Haver urged the election of the entire Republican delegation to the state. He paid a high personal tribute to the ability of Harry H. Lemming, the Republican candidate for surrogate, who he said was possessed of all the qualifications for the office to which he aspired. He said that he had appeared in litigation with Mr. Lemming, who also had appeared in cases in which he opposed him, but he had always found him a man who was deeply versed in law and the facts. Mr. Haver said that the voters of Ulster county would make no mistake in selecting Mr. Lemming as the next surrogate of the county.

Attorney Roger H. Loughran also urged the election of the entire Republican ticket, and called attention to the high type of men who aspired to office on the ticket.

The rally was largely attended. Entertainment was furnished by the Buckeroos.

WHY MICHAEL GALIETTA SHOULD BE ELECTED

Michael Galletta, the Coroner,

Who was appointed by Gov. Lehman September 12, 1938, has taken care of four cases in the City of Kingston within 15 minutes after he was called. Police Department, District Attorney's office and Sheriff's office have all received the best service since Mr. Galletta's appointment. Previous to Mr. Galletta's appointment persons who met with misfortune have been known to lie dead in the streets of Kingston a couple of hours before a Coroner was available. If elected Mr. Galletta will open an office in the City of Kingston, so that a Coroner will be instantly available when wanted. No matter what party you are enrolled with, you will render a real service to the City of Kingston and the surrounding communities by voting for

Schirick Signs Sale Approval

Justice Harry E. Schirick has signed the order authorizing and approving the sale of property by The Kingston Club to The Kingston Co-operative Savings and Loan Association.

The application, made by trustees of the club after a vote by the membership, asked the court to approve sale of the 45 foot lot on Wall street between the club house and the Kingston Savings Bank. On the lot will be erected by the Savings and Loan Association a home office building.

The order of Justice Schirick approves the sale of the lot for the sum of $10,000 and approves the transfer of the $17,000 balance of the present mortgage of the club property to the association at five per cent interest. Provisions are made also for the redemption of $7,000 of the mortgage by $500 semi-annual payments and also for the payment of the $10,000 balance which will exist when the semi-annual reduction payments have been met.

The order provides for the payment of the existing $25,000 held by Louise M. Klock out of the moneys derived from the sale of the lot and from the proceeds of the $17,000 mortgage which the association assumes. Provision is also made to meet interest due and for payment of $1,001.48 in tax arrears from the funds paid in by the Loan Association for the lot and from the newly made mortgage.

Producing Artificial Pearls

The fact that a pearl can be produced by the introduction of an alien body into the oyster has been used in industry for the culture of artificially bred pearls, observes a writer in Pearson's London Weekly. An expert states that as soon as the grain of sand (or any other particle) is introduced into the shell, the irritation causes the oyster to cover it with a smooth, protective layer containing calcium. Pearls are nothing but thousands of layers of calcium.

Caravan to Make Important Stops

At noon today the Dewey Caravan halted at East Kingston for the noon meeting and from there the schedule called for stops at Lake Katrine, West Hurley, Shokan, West Shokan, Olive Bridge and Samsonville with the big evening rally at Port Ewen at 8 p. m. The evening meeting will be held on the Main street of the village.

This evening there will also be an evening meeting at Firemen's Hall, Glasco, at which time Harry H. Flemming, Republican candidate for surrogate, will talk. Fred Stang, Assemblyman J. Edward Conway and Supervisor Robert Snyder of Saugerties, will also address this meeting.

Saturday the caravan is scheduled to open the day's campaign at Rosendale at noon and from there go to High Falls, Tilton, New Paltz, Gardiner, Modena, Ardonia, Clintonville and Lloyd terminating the day's activities with a mass meeting at the village square in Highland at 8 p. m. The Highland speakers will be Henry R. Bright, Hon. Lewis K. Rockefeller, N. LeVan Haver, Assemblyman J. Edward Conway and several of the local candidates.

The Dewey Caravan still continued to attract attention as it tours the county, stopping at central points for brief discussions of the issues. Because of the length of the tour planned each day a couple of communities have been disappointed when the caravan was unable to make connections but every effort is being made to maintain the schedule laid out.

Colored Voters To Hold Rally

This evening a crowd is expected at Cook's Hall, Railroad avenue, for the joint meeting of the colored ladies and men to hear a talk by Mrs. Bessie Payne, former president of the state Colored Women's Federation, who will speak in behalf of Thomas E. Dewey for governor.

Mrs. Payne is an interesting speaker, who will have facts and figures to quote. Starting time of the meeting is 8 15 o'clock, and those who desire front row chairs are advised to be early, because a large turnout is anticipated.

Other speakers on the program are Assemblyman J. Edward Conway and Philip Elling, chairman of the Republican party in Ulster county.

Among the subjects in Mrs. Payne's talk will be an explanation of what the Republican party has done to procure a state senator for Harlem, and an extra assemblyman, giving the district three instead of two.

In announcing the meeting, Mrs. Laura Rose said that she had received a telegram from Mrs. Genista Strong, chairman of the New York State Women's Republican Organization, with encouraging news concerning Candidate Dewey's chances.

Hypnotized Girl Still in Grave

Buried alive in a grave along side of Huling's Barn, across the Washington avenue viaduct, since Monday midnight, Carol Starr today was said to be doing well, by Hanyan, the hypnotist who cast her into a deep sleep before the burial.

Since the burial, thousands have visited the little tent to look down into the grave through a special shaft and see the girl. People from all walks of life, including physicians, have seen her and heard the feat explained by Hanyan.

Today the hypnotist said, "Miss Starr has been doing well without food or water, and, although I think she could stay under a long while yet, I may remove her from the grave Sunday."

Islands Connected by Sand Bars

Far out in the Gulf of St. Lawrence, northeast of Prince Edward island, lie the Magdalen islands, a string of small islands loosely connected by sand bars, many of which are submerged at high tide. Visited by the very earliest explorers they have been settled for close to 200 years, mainly by Nova Scotia Acadians following the fall of Louisbourg. From the earliest times its people have been mainly fishermen. From its sand bars and beaches the land rises sometimes to 500 feet above sea level, and about half the area of the islands is cultivated, the soil being reddish in color, resembling its nearest neighbor, Prince Edward island.

California's First Jail

A Vessel, Records Show
SACRAMENTO.—Only historians remember that California's first prison consisted of a ship anchored off Point San Quentin, in San Francisco bay, back in 1822.

Old records in the state house brought this strange fact to light in connection with the early history of San Quentin prison, the penitentiary for first offenders on the north end of the bay.

For five years after the American occupation, California had no fixed penal laws or penal institutions. Local jails were scarce and the large ranches maintained their own adobe guardhouses for their lawbreakers. Cross-road justice from the nearest tree in the early gold days seemed effective and sufficient.

After several years of leasing out prisoners to farmers, the legislature selected a site for a prison in 1833 and a prison ship was anchored until the buildings would be erected. The ship held 50 to 60 men.

CZECHOSLOVAKIA SHRINKS A LITTLE MORE

Map shows where nearly 5,000 more square miles of Czechoslovakian territory has been taken from the little republic (along southern boundary) to satisfy Hungary's demands. Heavy black line indicates former boundary, and thin line the new border determined by German Italian mediation. In western Czechoslovakia the area with finer shading was taken over by Germany after the Munich settlement.

DIVER SEEKS CAUSE OF NAZI BLAST

A mysterious explosion, which injured at least four crew members, ripped open the German steamship Vancouper and caused her beaching in the Oakland, Calif., estuary, where authorities sought the cause of the blast. A telephone call by an unidentified person to the Oakland Tribune, informing them of the blast a few minutes before it occurred, lent credence to a possible theory of sabotage. A diver is shown being lowered into the water to investigate the big hole in the hull of the steamer, which had 7 passengers and a crew of 54 aboard.

mayor will not meet the challenge. Now to get down to the budget demand, for after all it was the chief executive who as a clerk for his attack on Alderman Donarumma and me. By the terms of the city charter "The mayor shall present to the common council at its first meeting held after the first day of January in each year, the estimate of the amount to be raised by taxes in the annual city tax levy for the fiscal year."

Unless the board of aldermen approve it, no money could be raised by taxation, no municipal or governmental function could exist. The charter is the authority which gives the mayor the right and duty to offer a budget; and it is that same charter which states that before the budget is a finished product, it must be approved by the board of aldermen. Both the mayor and the board of aldermen are the proud (?) parents of the budget when it finally becomes a legal reality. Until the board of aldermen approve it, it is but the brain child of the mayor; after the board gives it the stamp of approval, it is a legal squalling infant which has reality, a brain child no longer.

But does our mayor acknowledge the relationship of the board and the budget? Never let it be said! In effect, his attitude implies that the board of aldermen is the illegitimate parent of his legitimate offspring. How does he imply it?

Because during the years he has been mayor he has never seen fit to furnish the members of the board of aldermen with copies of it. He has seen to it that the budget was railroaded through the board without an alderman having an opportunity even to see it, much less an opportunity to study and investigate. And this is the manner in which upwards of one million ($1,000,000.00) dollars of the taxpayers' money is levied.

At the first regular meeting of the board for the year 1938, held on January 4, a mass of figures were read by the city clerk and immediately thereafter the budget was moved for adoption. At that time, I explained upon the floor I could not vote either for or against the budget as I was ignorant of its contents as though I were a newly liberated slave, member of a carpet-bagger dominated southern legislature during reconstruction days. The newly liberated slave did as he was instructed but he knew no better; I refused to vote in favor of the budget because I realized it was my obligation to the people of the Eighth Ward to know the manner in which their money was being spent before voting to do so.

The issue mainly responsible for the Revolutionary War and the creation of our country was the familiar "taxation without representation is tyranny." We, in the City of Kingston, have both taxation and representation; but until the representatives of the people in their legislative body, the aldermen, have a fair opportunity to study the budget before they are asked by the Mayor to pass upon it, the City of Kingston does not have taxation with representation. Mayor Helsenman mentioned that I contributed nothing helpful or constructive to city government. Under the charter and the rules and ordinances of our city, there remains but little authority in the common council, and especially there is no opportunity for a member of the minority party to accomplish anything which is not in keeping with the mayor's policy. But if I succeed in securing for the common council copies of the budget for study prior to the time it must act upon it, I shall feel that under the circumstances, I have effected as much of an accomplishment as could be hoped for.

The last point in connection with the mayor's comments that I feel worthy of discussion is his insinuation that I am associated with, or subscribe to the principles of the League for Peace and Democracy. My statement is for the record.

First, I am in favor of peace. Second, I love fervently Democracy. Third, I am opposed to Communism equally as much as I am opposed to Fascism or Nazism. (The mayor, I am sure, will believe me when I say I am opposed to Hitler's ideology.)

Fourth, I must confess I agree with the mayor as to the background of the League for Peace and Democracy, and thus I am opposed to this organization. But although I am opposed to the League for Peace and Democracy, I charge the mayor with a violation of his oath of office if he were responsible for that organization's failure to secure permission to rent the auditorium for a public meeting. Our constitution, both federal and state, guarantees to everyone the right of peaceable assembly and the right of freedom of speech. B. S. Hague has made Jersey City a city of ill-fame by his dictatorial deprivation of these constitutional guarantees of freedom. May Kingston never suffer a similar fate by reason of a mayor's failure to live up to his oath to defend the constitution.

The mayor implied that Dr. Bibby has a Communist background. May I close this letter with the statement that I believe Dr. Bibby is no more a Communist than Mayor Helsenman is a Chinaman.

Yours very truly,
ELMER H. NATHAN,
Alderman, Eighth Ward

Protest Brings Death

Chicago, Nov. 4 (AP)—A motorist killed Donald Warden, 27, last night because he objected to having a car parked on his front lawn. The slaver and his three companions, all unidentified, fled. A quarrel developed when Warden told the men to move their car, one wheel of which was parked on the lawn. Three of the men engaged Warden in a fist fight. The fourth opened fire with a pistol.

Still Is Boomerang
Hodgenville, Ky., Nov. 4 (AP)—Larue county sheriff's deputies were a little bewildered today. They confiscated a still and 30 gallons of liquor. Close examination showed it to be the same one taken last August in another raid. Someone stole it from the county house basement two weeks ago.
